Congo

The Congo, also known as tumbadora is a tall, single-headed drum from Cuba. Congas are stored like barrels and classified into three types: quinto (lead drum, highest), and tumba or solido (lowest).

Cymbals

A cymbal is a common percussion instrument. Often used in pairs, cymbals consist of thin, normally round plates of various alloys. It originates from the bell-shaped bronze cymbal (damru) of Indian classical music. A cymbal is known as a cymbal.

Drum

Drum, musical instrument, the sound of which is produced by the vibration of a stretched membrane (it is thus classed as a membranophone within the larger category of percussion instruments). Basically, a drum is still a tube or a bowl of wood, metal, or gut (the shell) covered at one or both ends by a membrane (the 'head'), which is usually struck by a bar or stick. Snare drums, a class apart, are sounded by 'ruffling'.

Musical Instruments
